MORENO VALLEY MASONIC FAMILY NEWSLETTER OCTOBER 2010

Moreno Valley Lodge receives National Mark Twain Award –
A first for our lodge, and the State of California.

San Francisco, Sept 25th, 2010

During the Annual Grand Lodge Communication of California Masons with over 1000 in attendance, Moreno Valley Lodge receives the National Twain Award in recognition of ongoing community outreach. The first California Lodge to receive the award and one of 18 lodges Nationwide to be honored for their work in 2009.

Wor’s Spear, Janitell, Dudeck and SW Willem on stage during the afternoon ceremony conducted by PGM MW Richard Fletcher, Executive Secretary Masonic Service Association of NA with the presentation made by Grand Master MW Ken Nagel.

We are honored to be the recipients of this highly recognized National Award and as PGM Fletcher stated in his opening remarks, Moreno Valley receives the award not for what happens in Lodge but for What Masons Do outside the Lodge with youth and community.

“It was great being at the Grand Lodge Communication and receiving this award on behalf of all the hard working Masons and their families”

Wor. Pat Janitell told us while visiting Vets at the Monday night VA BBQ.

IN THE EAST

As my year as Master creeps to a close I wish to thank everyone for their support for my 2010 Masonic year. Our Officers are studying diligently for their advance stations in order to qualify for next year.

Moreno Valley Lodge will be working a Child ID booth at the Perris Fair this year. We hope you will come out and support our endeavor.

Once again we are back again at the Loma Linda veterans Hospital for our Monday Night Football Program, this is a fun evening and everyone is invited to attend. Our presents really brings a smile to the faces of the residents.

Those of you who have not paid your dues please make sure you take a moment to drop a check in the mail, remember your obligation. The youth of our Lodge are our Future, please support them, they are doing a fantastic job and you really need to see their work.

IN THE WEST

There is a saying which you have heard in Masonry many times:

By Brother Dewey H. Wollstein, PGM of Georgia

"You get out of Masonry only what you put in it." There may be a great deal of truth in such a statement, but it is a rather conservative estimate. You get far more out of Masonry than you ever can put into it. There is no work or study that pays greater spiritual dividends than the work of Masonry. There is no time better spent and which yields more happiness and satisfaction than time spent in the work of Masonry. If one is looking for a purely material or financial re-ward, then his time in Masonry is only a waste of effort. From the time you evidenced a desire to become a Ma-son, it was made plain to you that Masonry offered an opportunity for spiritual and mental growth, and did not offer or promise the least financial reward. The Wages of a Master are in keeping with the thing sought through Mastership. Then, is this work of Masonry confined to the lodge room? No. It is important that every Mason attend as many meetings of his lodge as he possibly can, and it is important that the Mason participate in as many activi-ties of the lodge as he possibly can, according to his talents, large or small. Yet, the work of Masonry is as extensive as life itself. The work of Masonry calls for an examination of self to determine how our own lives Reflect the teachings of Masonry. If we are honest in this, then other fields of work. In the interest of humanity will be opened, and we will enter into them with joy and enthusiasm because we are Master Masons and cannot do otherwise.

As always Thank you for your support, and God Bless.

IN THE SOUTH

The loss of a Brother by; John'e Johnson

When we loose one of our Brothers from the Lodge it is a profound emptiness we feel as we look at the chair he held or his company at our events. How much more so when we lose one of our own family who is also a Brother in Masonry. This last month we had such a loss or I should say, our dear Wor. Manny and his family did with the passing of his brother and Brother, Johnny. With all the visitors at the hospital and at their home in the last couple of weeks, I know they have been comforted with Brotherly love in this time. We also, as some of you may be aware, almost lost another Brother who was in a terrible motorcycle accident and broke more bones in his body than he wanted to count.

Brother Justin Bauer from the Evergreen lodge. One of our service dogs, Sophie had an opportunity to visit both families at the hospitals and help comfort them and the other hospital staff. Bella, our other service dog also got to visit with Justin while he was at the Loma Linda University Hospi-tal Rehab unit. He is home now and will continue his recovery with the help of his loving wife and brand new baby boy.

We're going to the Fair! Come on out to see a real County Fair and stop by our first ever Masonic Child ID booth. We will also have a couple of our service dogs going to the Fair again this year to meet with the kids. If you have a little time to help out with volunteering at the booth, we can always use a helping hand!

The Pomona Masonic Center was kind enough to loan us their entire setup to help us get started. What a great way for us to reach out to our local community and show them a little about "What Masons Do"....

Bethel 35 of Moreno Valley is proud to be part of Macy's Shop 4 a Cause.

Each term, each line officer is responsible for planning and implementing a fundraiser. The money raised helps support the term, philanthropic projects, Grand and Supreme projects, fun activities, and every day bills. Lerina Galba-Bright's Senior Princess project is Macy's Shop 4 A Cause. She and the other Daughters of the Bethel would love your support for the event on October 16, 2010. Tickets cost $5 each. With each ticket you will get...

Reusable discount: The main portion of the ticket is to be kept by the customer so they may enjoy the ticket's discount repeatedly during the event date. During Shop 4 A Cause, customers will receive an exclusive 10 to 20 percent discount on almost all purchases. See the ticket for a list of exclusions.

Savings Certificate: The "Savings Certificate" is a perforated coupon in the center of the ticket that offers 25% off a single regular, sale or clearance fashion item for the entire family including accessories plus selections for your home. (cannot be combined with the ticket's 10 to 20% discount so you will want to ring up 2 transactions).

Enter For a Chance to Win: This perforated stub at the bottom of the ticket allows customers to enter a drawing for a chance to win a $500 Macy's gift card (must be returned on event day at any local Macy's store). Job's Daughters will stamp this portion of the tickets; this is how Macy's tracks store attendance by charity. The Galba-Brights can deposit your stub if you are unable to attend that day but would like to enter the drawing.

Tickets may be purchased through any of the girls or by contacting the Galba-Brights at 951-224-4364 or princesslerina@galba-bright.com Thank you for supporting our girls and this wonderful organization.

DeMolay ~ Tyler Davies Subject: SCJ Express- September Greetings SCJ!

It was great seeing everyone at Conclave last weekend. I wish to congratulate everyone who received the various sports or ritual awards and also who were installed into their respective positions. Congratulations to Moreno Valley Chapter for receiving Chapter of the Year, Brother Daniel Wallace for receiving DeMolay of the Year, Brother Michael Smith for receiving the Distinguished Service Award, and Dads Joe Valenzuela and Ray Davies for receiving the Guild of the Leather Apron. Each of these was well deserved and we thank you for all the work you have done for our order in the past and in the days to come. Also congratulations to Paradise League for winning the Spirit Award; remember it is a new year so start showing your spirit off now, as we will be looking over the whole year to choose next year's winners. Next I would like to talk about membership. My friends, we have been doing so well. I am truly proud of SCJ when it comes to membership; all over the place we are witnessing new members initiated and we are actually tied in first with Ohio in new members initiated this year! My brothers that is truly something to be proud of. We currently are only 27 members away from positive growth. This time last year we were 41 members away from positive growth, so I know this is well in our grasps; in fact, I expect at least 50. This may seem like a lot, but if each chapter initiates 2 members from now and December then we will have accomplished this goal! Cont

KILROY WAS HERE!

WHO THE HECK WAS KILROY?

In 1946 the American Transit Association, through its radio program, "Speak to America," sponsored a nationwide contest to find the REAL Kilroy, offering a prize of a real trolley car to the person who could prove himself to be the genuine article.

Almost 40 men stepped forward to make that claim, but only James Kilroy from Halifax, Massachusetts, had evidence of his identity.

Kilroy was a 46-year old shipyard worker during the war who worked as a checker at the Fore River Shipyard in Quincy. His job was to go around and check on the number of rivets completed. Riveters were on piecework and got paid by the rivet.

Kilroy would count a block of rivets and put a check mark in semi-waxed lumber chalk, so the rivets wouldn't be counted twice. When Kilroy went off duty, the riveters would erase the mark.

Later on, an off-shift inspector would come through and count the rivets a second time, resulting in double pay for the riveters.

One day Kilroy's boss called him into his office. The foreman was upset about all the wages being paid to riveters, and asked him to investigate. It was then he realized what had been going on.

The tight spaces he had to crawl in to check the rivets didn't lend themselves to lugging around a paint can and brush, so Kilroy decided to stick with the waxy chalk. He continued to put his checkmark on each job he inspected, but added KILROY WAS HERE in king-sized letters next to the check, and eventually added the sketch of the chap with the long nose peering over the fence and that became part of the Kilroy message. Once he did that, the riveters stopped trying to wipe away his marks.

Ordinarily the rivets and chalk marks would have been covered up with paint. With war on, however, ships were leaving the Quincy Yard so fast that there wasn't time to paint them. As a result, Kilroy's inspection "trademark" was seen by thousands of servicemen who boarded the troopships the yard produced. His message apparently rang a bell with the servicemen, because they picked it up and spread it all over Europe and the South Pacific.

Before war's end, "Kilroy" had been here, there, and everywhere on the long hauls to Berlin and Tokyo .

To the troops outbound in those ships, however, he was a complete mystery; all they knew for sure was that some jerk named Kilroy had "been there first." As a joke, U.S. servicemen began placing the graffiti wherever they landed, claiming it was already there when they arrived.

Kilroy became the U.S. super-GI who had always "already been" wherever GIs went. It became a challenge to place the logo in the most unlikely places imaginable (it is said to be atop Mt. Everest , the Statue of Liberty , the underside of l'Arc De Triomphe, and even scrawled in the dust on the moon.)

As the war went on, the legend grew. Underwater demolition teams routinely sneaked ashore on Japanese-held islands in the Pacific to map the terrain for coming invasions by U.S. troops (and thus, presumably, were the first GI's there). On one occasion, however, they reported seeing enemy troops painting over the Kilroy logo! In 1945, an outhouse was built for the exclusive use of Roosevelt, Stalin, and Churchill at the Potsdam conference. Its' first occupant was Stalin, who emerged and asked his aide (in Russian), "Who is Kilroy?"

To help prove his authenticity in 1946, James Kilroy brought along officials from the shipyard and some of the riveters. He won the trolley car, which he gave to his nine children as a Christmas gift and set it up as a playhouse in the Kilroy front yard in Halifax , Massachusetts .

So, now you know the rest of the story!

Just a reminder to all: purchase a box, keep one in your car, pocketbook, wallet, bedside, etc.

About Heart Attacks

There are other symptoms of an heart attack besides the pain on the left arm.

One must also be aware of an intense pain on the chin, as well as nausea and lots of sweating, however these symptoms may also occur less frequently.

Note: There may be NO pain in the chest during a heart attack.. The majority of people (about 60%) who had a heart attack during their sleep, did not wake up. However, if it occurs, the chest pain may wake you up from your deep sleep.

If that happens, immediately dissolve two aspirins in your mouth and swallow them with a bit of water.

Afterwards: CALL 911

- say "heart attack!"

- say that you have taken 2 aspirins..

- phone a neighbor or a family member who lives very close by

- take a seat on a chair or sofa near the front door, and wait for their arrival and...

Being separated from family and loved ones is just one of the many difficult sacrifices our troops make to defend our country and our freedom. But right now, you and I have a special opportunity to help make dealing with that separation just a little easier.

Thanks to the USO's Operation Phone Home program, when you donate $15 today, you will provide our brave men and women with 45 calls home.

To make the most of this opportunity, the USO has set a goal of 100,000 calls by July 31. It's an ambitious goal, but it's one we must take on for our troops. And it's one we know we can achieve with the help of generous supporters like you. So please, don't hesitate and join in this great campaign today.

Mason's Best Friend

Pets are known to provide emotional and health benefits to their human companions, and today, are a common part of therapy programs at schools, rehabilitation centers, and hospitals.

Thanks to Masons in Moreno Valley, that list also includes the local veterans and children's hospitals.

Johne Johnson, assistant secretary of Moreno Valley Lodge No. 804, and wife Jane are long-time owners of Stitch and Riley, canine members of the lodge's visitation programs.

Since the Johnsons certified them as service dogs, the golden labs have become beloved regulars at Loma Linda VA Hospital and the local children's hospital, and play an integral role at lodge events.

Unlike service dogs, which are trained to help a person with a disability, therapy dogs are trained simply to provide affection and comfort.

In addition to Stitch and Riley, the Johnsons recently certified Sophie, a Maltipoo, and are training their fourth dog, Bella, for future certification.

“I Wish...”

For many years I worked in palliative care. My patients were those who had gone home to die. Some incredibly special times were shared. I was with them for the last three to twelve weeks of their lives.

People grow a lot when they are faced with their own mortality. I learned never to underestimate someone's capacity for growth. Some changes were phenomenal. Each experienced a variety of emotions, as expected, denial, fear, anger, remorse, more denial and eventually acceptance. Every single patient found their peace before they departed though, every one of them.

When questioned about any regrets they had or anything they would do differently, common themes surfaced again and again. Here are the most common five:

1. I wish I'd had the courage to live a life true to myself, not the life others expected of me.

This was the most common regret of all. When people realize that their life is almost over and look back clearly on it, it is easy to see how many dreams have gone unfulfilled. Most people have had not honored even a half of their dreams and had to die knowing that it was due to choices they had made, or not made.

It is very important to try and honor at least some of your dreams along the way. From the moment that you lose your health, it is too late. Health brings a freedom very few realize, until they no longer have it.

2. I wish I didn't work so hard.

This came from every male patient that I nursed. They missed their children's youth and their partner's companionship. Women also spoke of this regret. But as most were from an older generation, many of the female patients had not been breadwinners. All of the men I nursed deeply regretted spending so much of their lives on the treadmill of a work existence.

By simplifying your lifestyle and making conscious choices along the way, it is possible to not need the income that you think you do. And by creating more space in your life, you become happier and more open to new opportunities, ones more suited to your new lifestyle.

3. I wish I'd had the courage to express my feelings.

Many people suppressed their feelings in order to keep peace with others. As a result, they settled for a mediocre existence and never became who they were truly capable of becoming. Many developed illnesses relating to the bitterness and resentment they carried as a result.

We cannot control the reactions of others. However, although people may initially react when you change the way you are by speaking honestly, in the end it raises the relationship to a whole new and healthier level. Either that or it releases the unhealthy relationship from your life. Either way, you win.

4. I wish I had stayed in touch with my friends.

Often they would not truly realize the full benefits of old friends until their dying weeks and it was not always possible to track them down. Many had become so caught up in their own lives that they had let golden friendships slip by over the years. There were many deep regrets about not giving friendships the time and effort that they deserved. Everyone misses their friends when they are dying.

It is common for anyone in a busy lifestyle to let friendships slip. But when you are faced with your approaching death, the physical details of life fall away. People do want to get their financial affairs in order if possible. But it is not money or status that holds the true importance for them. They want to get things in order more for the benefit of those they love. Usually though, they are too ill and weary to ever manage this task. It is all comes down to love and relationships in the end. That is all that remains in the final weeks, love and relationships.

5. I wish that I had let myself be happier.

This is a surprisingly common one. Many did not realize until the end that happiness is a choice. They had stayed stuck in old patterns and habits. The so-called 'comfort' of familiarity overflowed into their emotions, as well as their physical lives. Fear of change had them pretending to others, and to their selves, that they were content. When deep within, they longed to laugh properly and have silliness in their life again.

When you are on your deathbed, what others think of you is a long way from your mind. How wonderful to be able to let go and smile again, long before you are dying.

Life is a choice. It is YOUR life. Choose consciously, choose wisely, choose honestly. Choose happiness.
